

PALMETTO STATE LITERACY ASSOCIATION

The Palmetto State Literacy Association (PSLA) is pleased to announce a series of professional learning opportunities. Sessions will be held on selected Saturdays between January and May from 10:00 -11:00 am EST and are being offered free of charge. The state organization simply requests that you join your local PSLA council if you are not currently a member. Membership to your local council, which runs from July 1 through June 30, is $15 and includes membership to PSLA. A link to the PSLA membership portal can be found here -

<https://palmettostateliteracy.org/membership/>

Our next Saturday session, which will be held on May 1, 2021, will feature Carol Jago, author of The Book in Question Why and How Reading is in Crisis. The title of the session is—Overcoming Reading Reluctancy: Navigating the Gap from Learning Loss to Learning Gain.

Use this link to register for the May 1, 2021 session -

<https://forms.gle/ERAbQstJjgqN83Xp9>

A link to the Zoom session will be forwarded to you upon receipt of your registration.

Follow and like Palmetto State Literacy Association on Facebook, Twitter, and Instagram

